Build Your Confidence to Get Ahead

Confidence is essential to a long and successful career. We all have doubts—moments when we’re unsure of ourselves—but you can build your self-confidence and thrive in any job with these tips from Military.com:

- LIST YOUR SUCCESSES: Keep a file of what you’ve accomplished in life—personally and professionally. This can include letters from supervisors or customers or exceptional performance reviews. Review your list every so often to remind yourself of what you’ve done so far in your career.
- RECRUIT SOME ALLIES: Make friends with people who believe in you. Your co-workers have seen what you can do, so hang around them for support and encouragement. Be sure to provide support of your own to show that you’re loyal and trustworthy, and they’ll have your back when you need it.
- KEEP EXPANDING YOUR SKILLS: Take classes, participate in professional events, and read all you can to learn. Mastering new skills shows you that you’re capable of improvement, which can teach you to believe you can overcome any challenge.
- FIND A MENTOR: Someone who can guide you as you progress in your career can be a great source of encouragement. Look for someone doing the kind of work you want to do. Listen to their advice, ask questions, and share your victories. Your success contributes to their success, so they’ll be happy to help you along..
- CONTRIBUTE AS MUCH AS YOU CAN: Helping your co-workers can boost your own morale. Their gratitude will reinforce your belief in yourself, you’ll feel a corresponding sense of pride to keep in mind when you’re plagued by doubts.

Got a Cut? Get a Band-Aid

The adhesive bandage is commonplace in medicine cabinets around the world. It was invented in 1921 by Earle Dickson, an employee of Johnson & Johnson. Dickson was concerned for his wife Josephine, who suffered frequent cuts and burns in the kitchen. They tried to wrap the wounds in gauze and adhesive tape, but the dressing usually fell off in a short time. Dickson tried placing some gauze in the center of a piece of tape and covering the whole thing with crinoline to keep it sterile.

The invention worked so well for his wife that Dickson took some to work to show to his colleagues.

The company owner, James Johnson, caught wind of the idea and decided the company should manufacture them. Dickson went on to have a successful career at Johnson & Johnson, becoming vice president before his retirement in 1957.

Health In The News

Start your spring in good health.

With spring coming, lots of us are planning a cleanup of our homes and offices. How about some spring cleaning for your health? Follow these tips from the Everyday Health website for cleaning up your health habits as the weather turns warmer:

- GET BACK TO FRUITS AND VEGETABLES. Fresh fruits and veggies start coming into season during the springtime months. Visit your local farmer's market when it reopens and look for organic produce in your grocery store.
- STAY HYDRATED. As temperatures grow warmer you may be outside more, exercising, running errands, and doing chores. You can easily sweat away moisture from your body without realizing it, so make sure to drink plenty of water throughout the day to ward off the fatigue, headaches, and low energy that can result from dehydration.
- GET MOVING. Take advantage of the milder weather to get outside and get your blood pumping. Even light exercise can do your body good after a sedentary winter. Take a walk or do some gardening to improve your muscle and bone health.
- ENJOY THE SUN—CAUTIOUSLY. Sunshine boosts your skin's production of vitamin D, which is good for bone health and increases serotonin levels, which elevates your mood. Just remember to protect your skin from UV radiation by covering up and using sunscreen when you're outside. Safeguard your eyes with sunglasses and hats.

Simple tips for slimming down.

You don't have to starve or torture yourself to lose weight. Marie Claire offers this advice for getting in shape with less anguish:

- PRACTICE CONSISTENCY. Whole grains, fruits, and vegetables take longer to digest, so they keep your stomach feeling full longer. You'll feel more satisfied after each meal.
- ENLIST SUPPORT. Don't beat yourself up if every meal isn't 100% healthy. That's unrealistic and expecting to never make a mistake will lead to despair and more unhealthy eating habits. As long as you're eating well 85% of the time, you'll slowly but surely reach your goals.
- SET GOALS. Follow this plan when filling your dinner plate: One half vegetables, one quarter carbohydrate, and one-quarter fat or protein. This keeps portions under control and ensures you get the right balance of food.
- MANAGE YOUR SHOPPING. It's easy to mistake being thirsty for hunger. Drinking more water or other low-calorie beverages can help you feel full and less inclined to snack.
- MOVE AROUND MORE. Don't obsess over trying to lose weight—focus on why you want to do it. Think about all the positive benefits of sticking to your plan—a better appearance, the ability to be more active, and so forth., This can keep you going when you feel like giving up.

Follow These Tips for a Successful Yard Sale

Do you have too much clutter in your garage or in your closets? With spring coming, it may be time to hold a yard sale to turn your unwanted stuff into a little extra cash. The most successful yard sales take some preparation, so here's a checklist to help you get started.

- ADVERTISING: Make brightly colored signs to advertise your sale, using thick black markers to write your address. Also, use arrows to give directions. Try posting the signs the night before the sale, and don't forget to remove them once the sale is over.
- CASH: Have plenty of coins and small bills on hand so that you can easily make change. Store the money in a fanny pack where it will be readily accessible but not easy to steal.
- PRICING: Use little stickers from office supply stores to place a price on each item. If the object is used, it should be priced around 10-25% of its retail value. If it has never been used or unwrapped, you can ask 50%. But be prepared to haggle.
- MERCHANDISING: To attract attention, display the most colorful items out front.

Look! Over There! A Leprechaun!

The leprechaun is one of the most popular and enduring symbols of Ireland and St. Patrick's Day. Leprechauns are seen in cartoons, on cereal boxes, and in horror movies. (Trivia: The 1993 movie Leprechaun was future Friends star Jennifer Aniston's first feature film.)

In Irish folklore, the leprechaun is a little old man, typically dressed in a coat of red or green. As a group they're sneaky and mischievous, and when they're not jealously guarding their gold and treasure, they make shoes. The word "leprechaun" may come from leath bhrogan, shoemaker, although some say it's from the word luacharma'n (pygmy), since they're known as the "wee folk."

If you happen to catch a leprechaun, you may be in luck. But be very careful—he'll promise you anything if you set him free, including all his gold, but leprechauns are famous for their cunning and will likely trick you out of any treasure they offer.
